HAVRE
A safe harbour for your child's emotions

FREE PRINTABLE KIT · FOR KIDS AGED ABOUT 6 TO 12

The HAVRE Home Kit

To help your child show what they feel, even when the words won't come, and calm down when things boil over. No screens, starting tonight.

1 This guide: how to get started
2 The fridge gauge
3 My calm-down plan
4 "Nothing to do" mission cards
5 The parent's notebook
6 The weekly check-in

Four golden rules

Introduce the kit at a calm moment.
Never in the middle of a meltdown: you learn to swim away from the storm.

The gauge belongs to your child.
Don't correct their colour. You can simply say: "Thanks for showing me."

No grades, no rewards tied to the colour.
Red isn't "bad". It's information.

Look for the "before", not someone to blame.
What happened just before is the most valuable clue.

Your trial week

Day 1
Print, put the gauge up and fill in the plan (page 3) together.

Days 2 to 6
Your child moves their arrow whenever they want. The mission cards are for when "there's nothing to do".

Every evening
30 seconds in the notebook (page 5), only if the gauge went up.

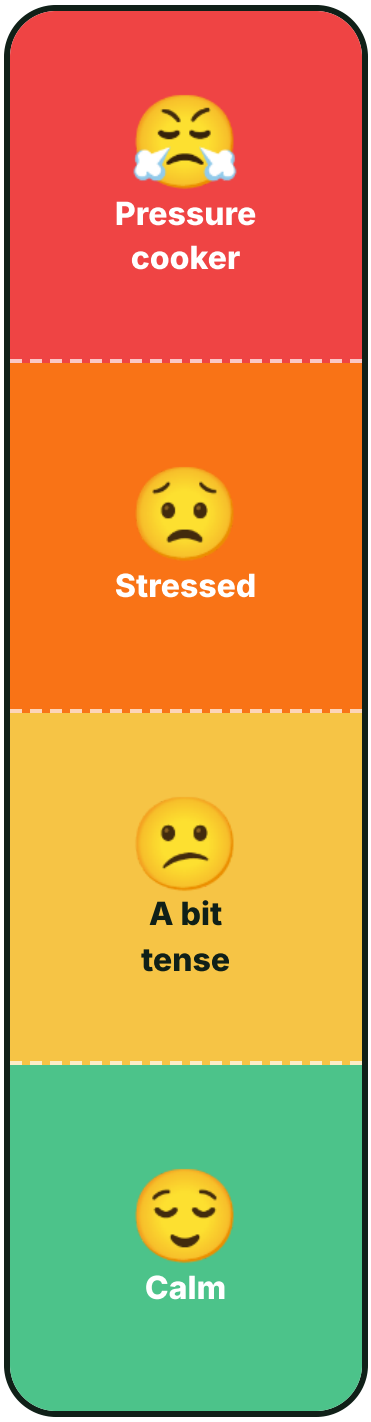

Day 7
The check-in (page 6), together, and your feedback to help us.

This kit is an everyday support tool. It is not a medical tool and does not replace professional advice. If you are worried about your child, talk to their doctor or a health professional.

PUT IT ON THE FRIDGE

..... 's gauge

Move your arrow whenever you want, to show how you're doing. Nobody is grading you. You can change your mind.

Pressure cooker

Too full. I feel like exploding, shouting or running away.

What helps me here:

.....

Stressed

Lots of things in my head. My body feels tight.

What helps me here:

.....

A bit tense

Something is bugging me a little, but I'm OK.

What helps me here:

.....

Calm

I feel good, relaxed and peaceful.

My calm-down plan

When things boil over, it's hard to think. So we make the plan now, while we're calm, and follow it when the time comes.

When it builds up, my body warns me

- ☐ My heart beats fast
- ☐ I get hot or go red
- ☐ My tummy feels tight
- ☐ I clench my fists
- ☐ I want to shout
- ☐ I want to cry
- ☐ I want to hide
- ☐ Other: .....

What can make my gauge go up

- ☐ Switching activities
- ☐ When there's nothing to do
- ☐ Homework
- ☐ An argument
- ☐ Being tired or hungry
- ☐ Noise, crowds
- ☐ Some friends
- ☐ Other: .....

CUT OUT · FOR “THERE’S NOTHING TO DO” MOMENTS

Mission cards

Draw a card, or pick one. When it’s done, put it aside: you’ll see everything you’ve accomplished.

MOVE

🏃 Lightning course

Build an obstacle course with 3 obstacles (pillows, chairs…) and do it 3 times.

⏱ 10 min

MOVE

💃 One song, one dance

Put on your favourite song and move until the very last note.

⏱ 4 min

MOVE

🐸 Frog & kangaroo

10 frog jumps, 10 kangaroo hops, then 10 giant steps.

⏱ 3 min

CREATE

🦊 Draw your buddy

Invent the mascot that helps you when things build up. Give it a name and a power.

⏱ 15 min

CREATE

🏕 Secret fort

Build a fort with blankets. It will be your calm corner.

⏱ 20 min

CREATE

📖 5-sentence story

Tell or write a story: a hero, a problem, a solution.

⏱ 10 min

SETTLE

🎈 The balloon

Breathe in and fill your tummy like a balloon, then blow out very slowly. 5 times.

⏱ 2 min

SETTLE

🖐 5-4-3-2-1

Find 5 things you see, 4 you hear, 3 you can touch, 2 you can smell, 1 you can taste.

⏱ 3 min

SETTLE

🎧 Music break

Lie down, close your eyes and listen to a calm song all the way through.

⏱ 5 min

HELP

FOR THE PARENT · 30 SECONDS IN THE EVENING

The notebook: what happened just before?

Only note the moments when the gauge went up (orange or red). No need to write everything: a few words are enough.

When?	Just before... (where, with whom, what activity, tired or hungry?)	Colour	What helped them calm down
E.g. Tuesday, 4:45 pm	Back from school, math homework, hadn't eaten.		A snack, then 10 min outside. Homework after.

Look for patterns, not culprits. A transition, a time of day, a person, hunger... What keeps coming back is a real clue.

Useful at appointments. If you see a professional, this notebook helps them understand in 2 minutes what happens at home. You decide whether to show it.

DAY 7 · DO IT TOGETHER

The weekly check-in

There’s no good or bad week: we simply look at what we learned.

How many days did the gauge move?

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7

For the child: the kit was…

What often comes up just before things build up

What helped most to calm down

Favourite mission card

What we’ll change in our plan for next week
